

Dear Editor,

I value a statement made by a dear friend and colleague that says “Public service is not something you have to do, it’s something you get to do.” What an honor to serve our citizens in the communities where we live and raise our families, and Liz Hamlett cherishes the opportunity to get to be a public servant for the citizens of Lunenburg County. I have been a commissioner for almost 16 years and have known Liz as the chief deputy and as your commissioner. She emulates Lunenburg’s motto of being warm, friendly, and offering an environment of working together. She is the consummate professional that is always willing to help. She is consistent in her application of the many, and ever changing, policies we must administer, and she is uniform in her assessments and her methodologies of those assessments.

Many times, we vote for change, and many times change is needed. Now is not that time! You have a proven public servant in Liz Hamlett! She puts her education, experience, and her commitment to work every day for the citizens of Lunenburg County. I urge you to get out and vote on Tuesday November 5th and ask that you vote for Liz Hamlett for Commissioner of the Revenue. She is your BEST choice.

Thank you for your time,

Lori K. Stevens

Dinwiddie County Commissioner of the Revenue
